Trade Exam Waiver Agreement (Reciprocity)

To obtain a Tennessee license without retaking the trade exam, a contractor may apply for a trade exam waiver by having one of the participating states (listed below), complete the attached "License Verification" form and returning it with their "Tennessee Contractor's License Application". Note: Some states charge a fee for completing. All of the forms and instructions may be downloaded from the Board's website at: <http://www.tn.gov/regboards/contractors/>

The following is a list of state agencies with a trade exam waiver (reciprocal) agreement with our Tennessee "Contractor's" license:

Alabama (General, Electrical, Residential, and HVAC)
Arkansas (Arkansas Contractors Licensing Board)
Georgia (Commercial Building and Electrical)
Louisiana (Residential, Commercial, Electrical and Mechanical)
Mississippi (Residential, Commercial, Electrical, Mechanical (Unlimited))
North Carolina (Residential/Commercial)
Ohio (Electrical; Plumbing; and HVAC)
South Carolina (Commercial Contractors Licensing Board)
NASCLA (National Commercial Exam)

Exceptions and Other Requirements

The reciprocating state must be the applicant's home/domiciled state; or licensed in one of the participating states and taken an exam comparable to Tennessee's (e.g., if you've taken an exam with a state in which we do not have an agreement, you may need to take Tennessee's trade exam). If there is not a trade exam required, there is no need to apply for reciprocity of an exam waiver. See a list of exams at:

<http://www.tn.gov/regboards/contractors/documents/ClassificationOutlineWeb.pdf> Contractors with disciplinary action, open complaints or felony convictions are not granted a trade exam waiver.

All applicants must pass the "Tennessee Business and Law" exam with PSI, along with completing the entire license application with all financial requirements, insurance, and Board review. (Note: A license is required prior to bidding, contracting or even making an offer to engage. Doing so is a violation of law and the license would be held for six (6) months.)

Other Tennessee Agencies and Licenses

Our reciprocity/trade exam waiver agreement only applies to "Contractors" licensed with our Board for Licensing Contractors and does not apply to our other license programs (Home Improvement; LLE; LLP) or other State licensing agencies separate from our Board, such as: Alarm Systems Contracting Board for security alarm systems; the Division of Fire Prevention for fire sprinklers; Geothermal with the Department of Environment and Conservation, etc., (see "Valuable Resources" link on the website). Contractors must comply with local government permits for inspections.

Bid Preference Law

The Bid Preference Law is for those contracting in other states bordering Tennessee and says that our state requires the same of nonresident contractors as they do of resident contractors. This statute is found in T.C.A. 12-4-801 and states in part, should the bidder on a public construction project in this state be a resident of another state, contiguous to Tennessee, a like reciprocal preference is allowed. In short, if a nonresident's home state gives a preference to their residents, and adds a percentage to a nonresident's bid to increase the total bid amount, we would apply the same criteria to their bid on our state's work.

Tennessee Licensed Contractors Requests

Contractors licensed with Tennessee may contact a participating state for their agency's license requirements. To have a license verification completed by our Board, you may email, fax or mail to our Board at the address listed above and we will be happy to complete, at no charge, and return per your instructions as quickly as possible. LICENSE CLASSIFICATIONS

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION (BC) (Trade Test Required)

The "BC" classification requires a combined exam and covers all areas of contracting for building (residential, commercial and industrial), as well as any of the 34 building subcategories. The "BC" combined classification is most commonly referred to as a "General" contractor. There are "combined" exams, such as: BC-A,B (residential and commercial); BC-A,b(sm) (residential and small commercial); or BC (residential, commercial and Industrial).

Residential (BC-A)

Residential building contractors are those whose services are limited to construction, remodeling, repair, or improvement of one, two, three, or four family unit residences, not exceeding three stories in height and accessory use structures in connection therewith. May also take a combined exam, such as BC-A,B or b(sm) or BC. Residential contractors may bid any of the 34 building subcategories, as long as it is "residential".

Commercial (BC-B) (May take a combined exam, such as "BC" or "BC-A,B", etc.)

A commercial building contractor is authorized to bid on and contract for the construction, erection, alteration, repair or demolition of any building or structure for use and occupancy by the general public, including residential construction with more than four (4) units or greater than three (3) stories in height. In addition, may perform any of the 34 building subcategories for "commercial". Pursuant T.C.A. § 62-6-111, if a contractor does not have a classification to cover 60% of the project, they may still bid if they have a commercial classification, but would be required to subcontract any portion $25,000 or more to a properly licensed contractor.

Small Commercial (BC-b(sm)) Same as above, but limited to obtaining a monetary limit of $750,000 and less. A small commercial building contractor is authorized to bid on and contract for the construction, erection, alteration, repair or demolition of any building or structure for use and occupancy by the general public. Must take the "BC-B" exam to increase limit above $750,000 or may take a combined exam to include residential and or industrial.
